LIFE IN COLOR

Letter from the Director...

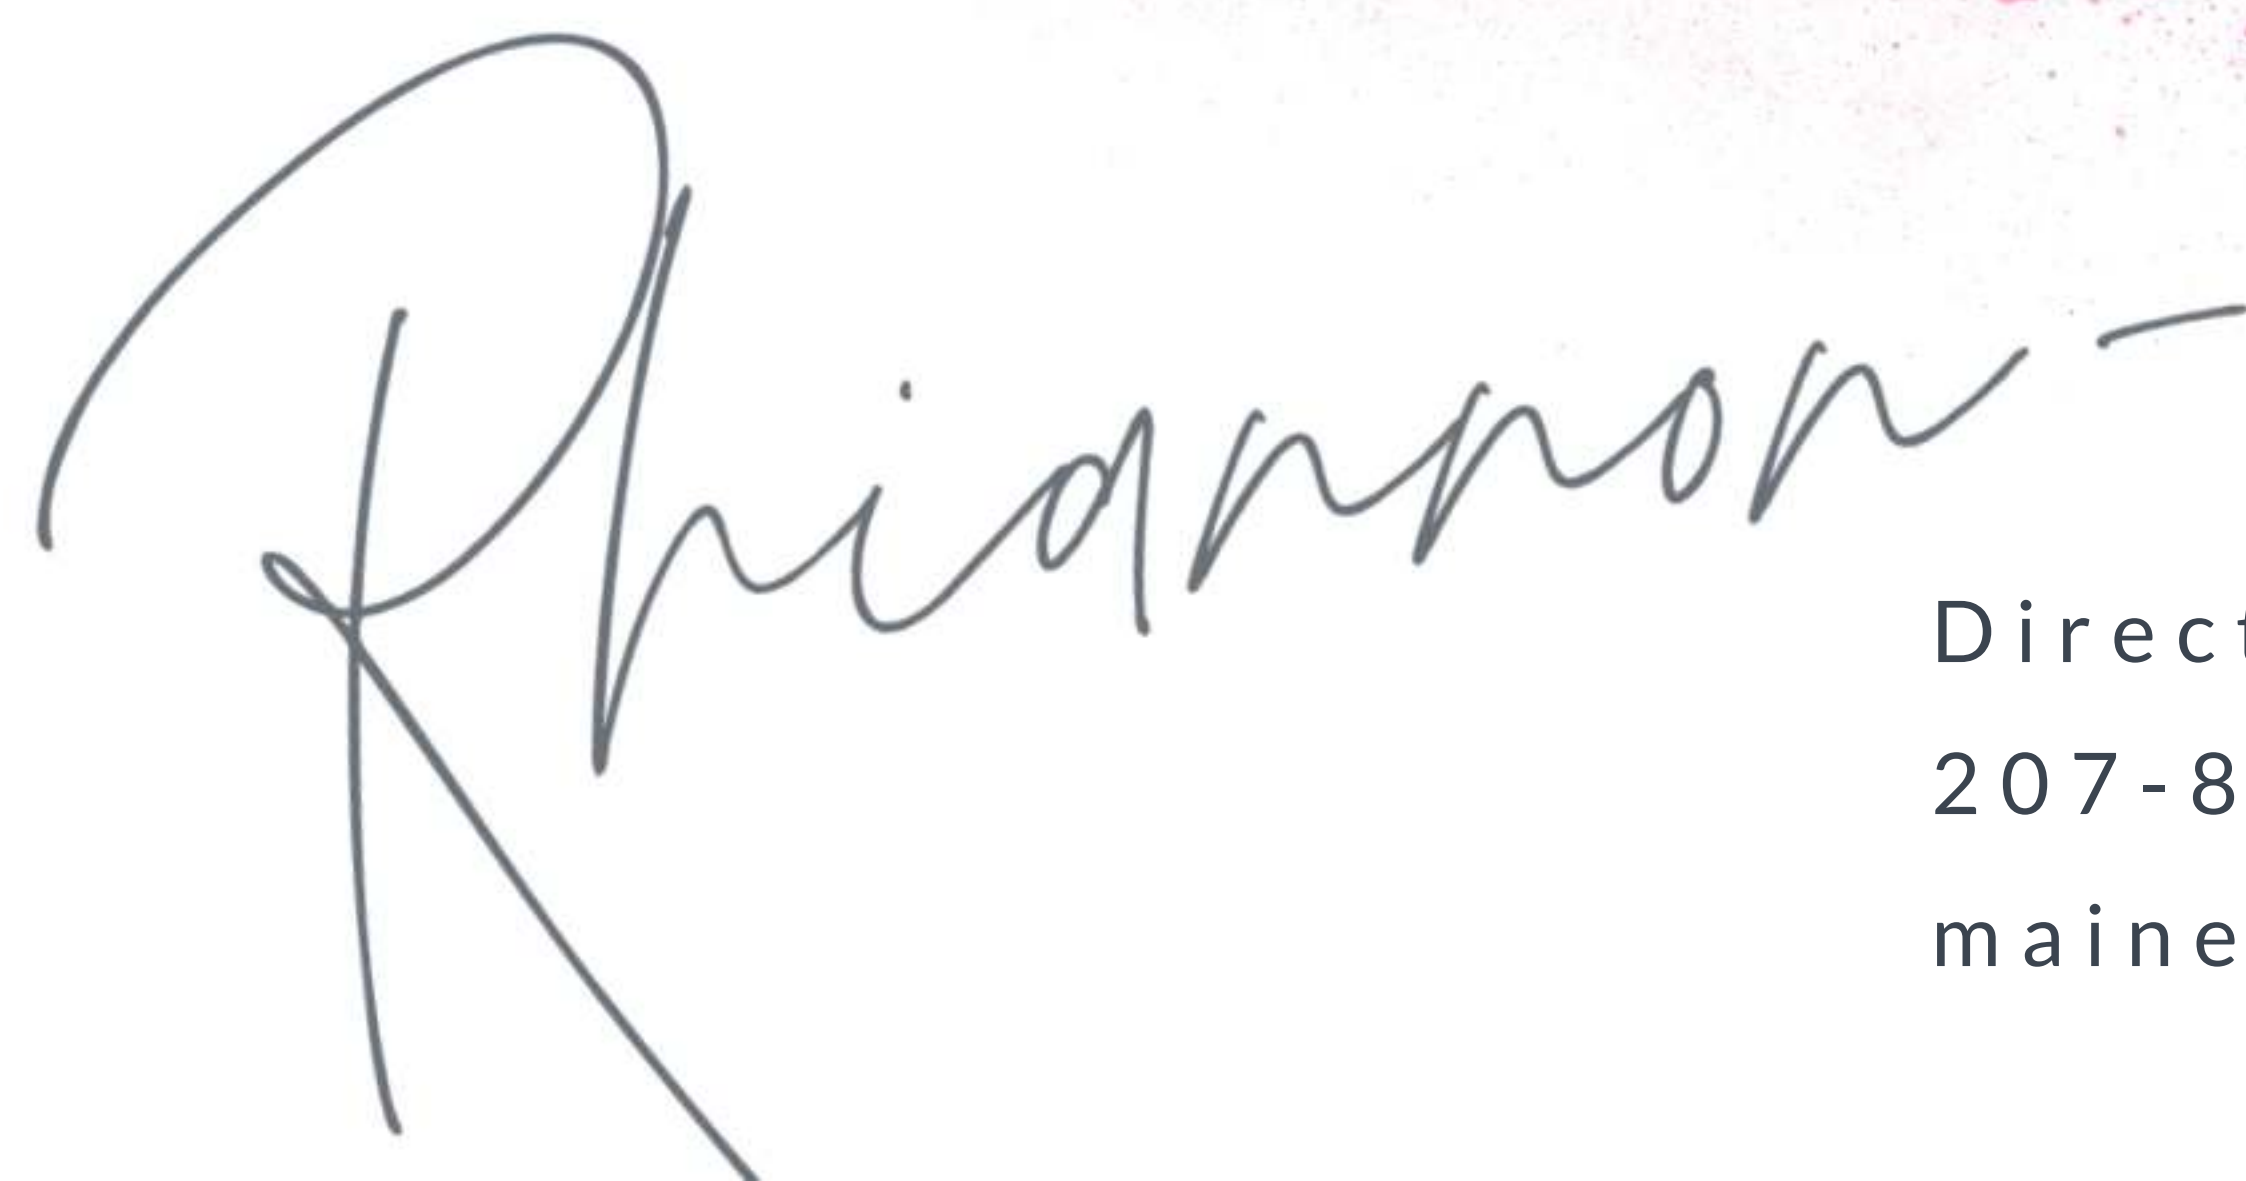

In one breath, to say we have had five wonderful years of dance at MDC feels impossible, and in another it is totally appropriate because the progress, memories, and growth we have made as a studio is immeasurable. The fact we have come this far in only five years is something I can only accredit to a whole lot of love and passion from everyone that walks through our doors.

I think back to my first experience with performance as a six-year-old little girl in Central Maine with straight-cut 90's bangs and a belly full of nerves and I just want to give her a hug (but don't worry, her awesome mum gave her plenty). She didn't know she was about to find exactly where she belonged. It fills my cup so much to think that some of our students will get to have that same experience today. They will find something that makes their heart soar, and that will stick with them in some form for the rest of their life.

Giving your kids the gift of dance isn't just about giving them something to do on a weeknight after school (although that is a great added benefit). Dance is teaching us about self-expression, self-motivation and discipline, how to take care of your physical self and your mental self, how to work both as a group and independently, how to believe in yourself and train the voice in your head to be your own coach, the process of learning that small daily/weekly actions lead to long-term achievements... and never mind all the physical benefits like improved cardiovascular health, strength, endurance, and flexibility, better short term and long term memory, reduced overall stress levels, and so much more... So when you're ready to join your kiddo and hop into a dance class with our awesome adult crew, just let me know :-)

But truly, you already knew all of this. At MDC, we come to class every week because we love dance and to share that with a like-minded group of people is super, super special. We have one of the most awesome communities and I feel blessed every day to be a part of it. I love my students, I love my staff, and I love that we get to share our lifetimes of work with the next generation of artists and athletes. Thank you for choosing us to be a part of your family's life and thank you for loving dance alongside us. We cannot wait to see what next year brings!

All my best,

Director

A summer dance experience unlike any other in Southern Maine.

Train with our elite staff, guest teachers, learn choreography, and end each session with a fun event (glow party, pizza party, ice cream, etc...)! Students receive professional and pre-professional level training in ballet, tap, jazz, lyrical, contemporary, hip hop, musical theater, and more from a variety of local and guest instructors.

Students will be divided into three levels based on age and experience, each morning will begin with a 90 minute ballet class followed by a rotating schedule of dance styles and instructors. On the Thursday of every session, dancers will perform in a brief showcase held in our main studio offered for free to two guests per dancer.
